October

is a Great Time to Save

The autumn season brings fall colors and cooler temperatures, and October brings the start of holiday sales. It's a time when retailers want to move out their remaining summer inventory, as well as discount some new winter items. Here are a few of the best deals you can find in October.

Warm winter clothing – Retailers begin releasing their new winter clothing at sale prices, before demand for these items really kicks in.

Older mobile phones – New mobile phones are announced in September, so to make room on the shelves, sellers begin marking down older generation models in October.

Camping gear and outdoor furniture – Get good out-of-season deals on tents, sleeping bags, lawn chairs, and grills in October and you'll be prepared for next summer.

Cars – Many dealerships begin transitioning inventory to next year's models.

Bicycles – With less demand in colder temps, dealers will start offering their lowest prices on bikes and bike gear.

Travel packages – If you've been thinking of taking a cruise or trip overseas, you'll find good package deals in October.

Fans and air conditioners – Again, as the temperature drops, so do prices for these popular summer items. But know that some dealers will begin storing these items in their warehouses in November for next year, so get them in October while prices are low!

Seasonal produce – Apples, squashes, and sweet potatoes are in abundance and priced to sell. Buy them in bulk, slice them up, and freeze them so they can be enjoyed throughout the winter.

Credit Unions Help Students When They Need It Most

While many banks and other lenders have stopped offering private student loans to focus on bigger, more profitable loan types, you still can depend on Nizari PFCU to help you pay for school. Credit unions have lower loan rates and provide more products and services for students, according to CBS Money Watch.

While you should first exhaust all sources of free money for school—grants and scholarships—and federal student loans, a private loan can help fulfill any remaining financial need. And low rates are just the beginning at Nizari PFCU. We also offer low- or no-fee checking and debit cards, low-rate credit cards, and low-rate auto loans and mortgages. Added to that mix is superior service and financial education to help you manage your money wisely.

Already have private student loans? Consolidate them at Nizari PFCU for a better payoff strategy.

To begin with, I was really happy how the loan process was even though I applied for the loan from Atlanta, GA. It was as if I was in Texas.

You have been extremely helpful in every step of the way along with Shamsa who was very quick in responding to my questions.

The process was so well organized that you were able to approve me for the loan in the estimated time.

Overall, I am very happy with the loan process and would highly recommend my friends/family to use Nizari Credit Union in the future. Thanks again for your help." - Shoukat Hajiyan

Check Your Free Credit Reports Throughout the Year

It's important to check your credit report at least once annually to monitor for signs of identity theft or fraud, as well as check for any errors.

The Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) requires each of the nationwide credit reporting companies — Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion — to provide you with a free copy of your credit report, at your request, once every 12 months. But don't order the reports directly from the companies. They are providing free credit reports only through annualcreditreport.com, 1-877-322-8228. If you prefer to mail in your request, you can download the request form at <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0093-annual-report-request-form.pdf> and mail it to the address on the form.

To take full advantage of these free reports, instead of ordering all three at once, order a report from a different company every four months. That way you can spread out these freebies and check your report throughout the year.

Four Signs You Need to Clean Up Your Finances

It's easy to see when your house needs cleaning: clothes are on the floor; dirty dishes are stacked in the sink. But it may be a little harder to know when to "tidy up" your finances. Here are a few signs:

You're living paycheck to paycheck: If you barely make ends meet at the end of the month, it's time to buy yourself some wiggle room for unexpected events. Start by cutting back on at least one major expense and putting that money into an emergency fund. The goal of an emergency fund is to be able to cover a three-month period of unemployment, at a minimum. Consider downsizing to a smaller home or apartment, going from a two-car household to one, or commuting by bus or bike. Getting a side gig is another way to boost your emergency funding.

You're not saving for retirement: According to Northwestern Mutual's 2018 study, 21% of Americans have not saved for their retirement. If you're one of those people, it's time to start. Your goal should be to save 15% or more of your monthly income for your retirement. If you're not used to saving, going from 0 to 15% might be hard. So, start small and simply set aside $50 each month. Increase that amount when you get a raise or get a better handle on your expenses.

You're carrying credit card debt: There is good debt—mortgages for homes and loans for education—but there is also bad debt. Credit card debt is the worst kind of debt you can have, and the longer you carry it, the more money you end up losing in interest. If you're up to your chin in credit card debt, maybe it's time to create a budget and move to a cash-only system until your debt is under control.

You don't have a budget in place: Do you follow a budget? Many Americans don't, even though it's probably the most effective way to manage money. Without a budget in place, you'll have a hard time seeing where your money is going, where you're overspending, and where you can make changes.

If any of these signs apply to you, it's time to clean up and learn how to manage your money. You'll be thankful in the long run.

Dear Ms Nafisa,

I want to once again thank you and congratulate you for the very fine customer services your branch provides to small business customers like me. Although I am in retail business for 30 years, I came to Nizari PFCU before about 20 months ago to open an MSB and Checking A/c for my business. In my understanding Nizari PFCU was also getting into servicing MSB checking accounts for few months before that and that was a co-incident for many small businesses like me who were becoming victim of big banks monopolies which suddenly decided to discontinued doing business with small Money Service Businesses MSB.

Life has become much better since as Nizari PFCU which does things right in favor of small businesses. I think we small business owners collectively try to do things right on our part too and try to generate more business for our Nizari credit union, such as getting mortgages, car loans etc. from here.

Your staff is friendly and nice. Makes you feel welcome and wanted every time you walk in, and which is a key to success for any businesses. Your branch's service is  five stars from my point of view.

Thank you & God bless you.

Ahmad Kamrudin
